- Create books to keep your personal information safe and organized - Versatile software that can be used to store different types of data - Inbuilt password generator - User-friendly layout - Simple to use and easy to navigate - Keep your notes in one place Best VPN for Kodi [LIVE! 2018] Kodi is an open-source software platform that lets you play all your favorite online videos and movies on your TV. It is far more than a simple video player; you can also stream music, play games, manage your photos, set up a home theater, browse the web and much more. There are plenty of applications to stream video content on Kodi, but some require an active internet connection to work. With a VPN, you can watch videos online without the need for an active internet connection, and this allows you to use the device for far more than just watching TV. Here are some of the best VPNs for Kodi. You can use them to watch movies and TV shows, listen to music, browse the internet and stream videos anywhere in the world. ProtonVPN A great VPN option for Kodi, ProtonVPN is designed to make it easy for users to watch videos on their devices. Available on Windows, Mac, iOS, Android and Linux, the app includes useful features such as the ability to set up multiple accounts, rename servers and switch between servers with ease. In addition to these features, the app uses strong encryption to encrypt your traffic, so even if your internet connection is slow, ProtonVPN will still help you watch content online. With the recent implementation of server-to-server encryption, you can make sure that your connection is protected even if someone tries to intercept your traffic. This is a free version of ProtonVPN, but you can opt for a premium subscription for a one-off payment of $10 per month, or you can sign up for a three-year term at $3.33 per month. IPVanish Access the US Netflix or BBC iPlayer without having an internet connection, or use a VPN to access streaming services worldwide. IPVanish is a great application for streaming content on Kodi, as it supports all the popular streaming services, such as Netflix, YouTube, Hulu and Amazon Prime Video. It can also be used to access foreign streaming services, such as BBC iPlayer, while adding privacy and security. IPVanish offers its services on a variety of platforms, including Windows, Mac, Android
